| RTLE Matrix Objective | Using classroom and community based experiences, show or explore with students different job opportunities based on their interest. |
| Student Audience/Length | Grades 9-12/ 14-22 year olds/ Self-contained or occupational course of study/ 1-2 days |
| Materials/Resources Needed | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Computer• Printer• Internet• PowerPoint |
| Teaching Procedure | <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. I start off by asking my students to name as many jobs as they can. I tell them to think about what their family members do or anyone they know.2. While the students name the various jobs I will write them on the board for everyone to see.3. I will guide them in coming up with several jobs.4. Next, we discuss what jobs they are interested in. What they would be interesting in doing.5. As a class we continue to talk about the specific task that go along with some of the jobs they have chosen.6. I then have them decide on a job they would like to have.7. Next, they must research the specific job they chose.8. I will provide them with specific items I want them to know about the job they pick. Such as the job description, the environment in which they would work in, how much money they would make, or what clothes they would have to wear.9. After they have answered all of the questions they will start to put the information in presentation form using PowerPoint.10. Each slide will represent one of the specific questions they have found. They are allowed to pick the font and backgrounds for each slide.11. After everyone has completed their PowerPoint they will present to the class. |
